KIRAN, the Knowledge-based Intercommunity Relationship and Awareness Network, has organised a multifaith conference for Key Stage 4 and Post 16 students (pupils aged 14-18). Kings Monkton School Cardiff and Delhi Public School Newtown Kolkata (joined over skype) have taken part in the event.

The event was chaired by Neil Mukerji, a then year 10 student of Kings Monkton School. The event allowed the students to ask questions to the panel relating to issues like faith in young people's lives, religiosity and loneliness, terrorism; LGBT, sex before marriage. The panel consisted of many notable faith leaders, lawyers, social leaders and Government official including Mr Paul Dear, the then Head of Equality, Welsh Government. This conference provided the pupils with the opportunity to discuss current issues relevant to modern society with the trusted members of communities.
